

We as Americans' have the right to choose what we listen to, and the right to choose the source. We pay our representatives to up hold our rights and its a dam shame that issues like this has to become political. There are greater things going on in our country that requires our representatives attention.